FEDERAL COURT RULES FOR HOSPITAL

Word was received here Wednesday morning that the Supreme Court of the United States has refused to hear the case against the Hamlin Hospital District.

In a letter to John Watts of Willingham and Watts, attorneys for the Hospital District, Michael Rodak Jr. clerk of the Supreme Court said: "The Court today denied the petition for a writ of certiorari in the above-entitled case." The letter was dated April 25, 1977, and the case referred to was entitled, "C. E. Carter, et al. vs. Hamlin Hospital District, et al."

Watts said Wednesday morning that the Hospital Board was extremely pleased and will immediately begin the remodeling of the

The case has been in the courts for over a year with the first ruling in the case by 104th District Court Judge J. Neil Daniel in favor of the district coming in February, 1976. The case was next heard in the 11th Civil Appeals Court with their ruling in favor of the district coming June 24, 1976.

The Texas Supreme Court refused to grant

an application for Writ of Error in the case Dec. 1, 1976.

Plaintiffs in the suit were C. E. Carter, Leon Kelso, Frank Carter, Henry Ueckert, Darwin Hill and Carl Jackson. They sued the Hamlin Hospital District and its board of directors, plus the state attorney general.

NEWS AND VIEWS . . . And What Have You By BOB CRAIG

Hamlin area residents will have the opportunity Sunday to go through the new auditorium and middle school buildings. And if you have not seen them yet we would urge you to go.

The buildings are something that the whole community can take great pride in.

Parents of local students will also have the opportunity next week to visit their children's class rooms. The Hamlin schools delayed the observation of Public School Week until this time so that the students would be in the new buildings.

We are not sure that President Carter has the answer to America's energy problem or not in this package that he sent to Congress but we are glad to see so much importance being placed on it.

The American people must be convinced that we have a problem. We really doubt that more bureaucracy will do much to solve the problem but a concerned public can. Most of us could cut back a great deal in the amount of energy we waste without ever lowering our standard of living or without doing without any of the things we have come to expect.

As Cong. Omar Burleson points out in his newsletter this week, "The President's proposal on energy does nothing to increase production of energy supplies. The conservation measures mean sacrifices in our economy without anything to replace them."

He says it makes sense to conserve in an interim period while we seek additional resources but the controls which go with it are the main reason we are in the shape we are today. If we think we have controls and regimentation on the economy by a bureaucratic government, if all the elements of the energy policy were adopted, there would be inevitably more at the cost of every citizen in this Nation, he said.

The biggest fear we have of both the Administration and the Congress is what they will do to us in the name of meeting this "crisis." Sometimes the cure is worse than the disease.

Most people don't think about fire prevention until it's too late. Sure you keep an eye out for obvious hazards. Everybody does. No one would "let" their child play with matches, or throw a lit match into a waste paper basket. But what about hidden danger areas? And carelessness? Like putting a penny in a fuse box, or letting trash pile up. Fires can happen anytime... anyplace. That's why individual prevention programs are so vital to minimizing their cause.

Each of us can reduce the threat of fires...the tragic loss of lives and irreparable damage they incur...by being alert to the rules of fire safety
and practicing them. It's up to you, you and YOU!

- In the home: Practice fire drills with your family. Keep a fire extinguisher in a handy place.
- On your property: Check electrical wiring. Watch for trash build-ups.
 Take care when disposing of chemical containers, aerosol cans.
- In the forest: Be extra careful when smoking and extinguishing cigarettes. Snuff out campfires completely. Don't litter.
- Everywhere: Obey fire laws and "no smoking" signs. When driving, keep clear of vehicles carrying highly flammable contents.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

As we leave behind another Tax Day (April 15), there are a couple of bills pending in the House of Representatives which will be of interest to many persons in the Hamlin

Some 54 million Americans are hit with an income tax penalty of up to 20 percent because they are single, or because they are married with both partners working. The Committee of Single Taxpayers (CO$T) has been working for several years to eliminate this inequity. To accomplish this goal, Rep. Ed Koch has again introduced HR 850 in the House.

Also pending in the House is HR 84, introduced by Rep. Herb Harris, which would make a beginning toward income tax equality for renters, similar to what has for so long been available to homeowners.

Anyone interested in more information about these bills is urged to send a long, selfaddressed stamped envelope to me at the address below, mentioning that this letter was read in the Hamlin Herald. Thank you.

The Sacred Concert, presented by the Hamlin Choral Club, under the direction of Mrs. L. B. Howard, Sunday night was a program of the rarest kind for its musical and devotional nature. All churches suspended their regular services and assembled at the Baptist Church. The seating capacity was far too small to accommodate the crowd. Probably there would have been 1000 present had there have been an assurance of room.

The program was given volume and variation by the assistance of a number of male voices. The men taking part were: Messrs. Grogan Turner, J. C. Turner, S. T. Curtis, Sam Alford, Floyd Carlton, W. A. Albritton, Pearson Morgan, Ed Bailey, Tom Farrow, J. O. Jones and Mart Farrow.

We created a paper shortage almost over night because we shut down paper mills that could not meet the environmental standards. You can add industry after industry to this list and then wonder how bureaucracy is going to solve Prayer Service 7:00 p.i this problem of energy.

We have people right now that if left alone will close down 90 percent of the cotton gins in the state because of dust.

These things were all done by dedicated people who believed in what they were doing but they could not have done much more damage to this nation if they had been foreign agents. And this is Prayer Meeting what scares me - we can only wonder what may be forced on the American people in the name of conservation and the public good.

On the one hand you have these dedicated public servants who can see nothing but their own cause and on the other hand you have the same old story of politics - gore everyone's ox but your own.

A good example of the latter is Senator Proxmire of Wisconsin who has been one of the outspoken Prayer, Bible Study 7:00 p.m. critics of the oil and gas industry and insisting almost daily to keep price controls on oil and gas. Yet when interviewed recently as to Mass why he was so active in his support of seeking additional price hikes for milk, it's a different ball game

... "the dairy farmer's costs have gone up, inflation has eaten into the profits and he needs more money if he is to produce more milk." Sounds familiar doesn't it.

Another one is Rep. John Dingell of Michigan who has been outspoken in his demand to break up the oil and gas companies in the nation, he was the first to scream to the high heavens when it appeared the administration was going to put huge taxes on gas-guzzlers out of Michigan.

Yes, we Americans need to conserve our energy and we need to solve a lot of other problems but at the same time we need to keep our eye on these people that have the power to regulate our lives.

Let us help the President solve both our current energy problem and our long range needs, but let us not give anyone a blank check to regulate our lives to meet their personal whims.

This bill provides for 85 percent state funding of the foundation school program. Under this legislation, however, school districts will be required to freeze local taxes at their current levels in 1977-78 and lower taxes to a statewide total in 1978-79. New provisions in House

Bill 750 include: A shift from a 180-day school term to 174 days $117 million extra funding for such maintenance and operation costs for schools as utilities and supplies

$21.5 million increase for transportation expenses $6.5 million increase for drivers education

Funds to hire additional teachers to lower the pupilteacher ratio in kindergarten through grade three

$2 million for extra personnel in districts with migrant student populations The Senate now will have to work on its public school funding measure, and if they fail to adopt the House measure, a joint House-Senate conference committee will meet to work out a compromise bill.

Although teacher salaries are not included in House Bill 750, a $263 million pay bill has been approved by the House Public Education Committee and is expected to come before the full House within

The pay hikes would be formulated through a small increase in the base salaries and by creating three new pay steps beyond the 10 steps currently in existence, making the top pay for a bachelor's degree teacher on pay step 13 about $14,000 annually

House Bill 846, the much discussed Property Tax Code This is a measure I opposed in its final form because it establishes a new state level bureaucracy without accomplishing all that much. House Bill 846 would establish a single countywide appraisal unit for all areas of the State, taking over the appraisal responsibilities now vested in cities, school districts and special districts. However, the bill will not take in the county tax assessor's appraisal duties unless the county assessor makes the decision to join the county-wide appraisal unit. Retired teachers will get a significant boost in benefits if Senate Bill 74, as approved by Committee, is enacted into $170 million proposal which would increase benefits to already retired teachers as well as those who will retire in the future. I believe that Senate Bill 74

is a fair proposal, considering the many demands for state funds, and an improvement in the teacher retirement system that will benefit both former and present teachers.

were caught in a flash flood? trapped in a beach house

Would you know how to If lightning struck the person during a hurricane? If you survive - and how to prevent accidents that can occur FAMILY GAME ROOM during such disasters?

If not, you can learn by watching "The National Disaster Survival Test" on NBC-TV, Sunday, May 1, at 7:00 p.m. CST. Produced by Warren V. Bush in cooperation with the National Safety Council, the 90-minute "Big Event" will incorporate films of actual disasters, dramatic re-enactments and interviews with survivors and survival experts.

Using a test format, viewers at home can compete with each other to see who knows how best to cope with emergencies. You, in turn, will be competing with a cross-section of Americans in studio audiences in five major test cities. Electronic boards will break down the answers into city-by-city categories, as well as age, sex and even professional categories.

Charles F. Richter, formulator of the Richter Scale for measuring earthquakes, states that "Over 90 percent of the loss of life, and more than half the property loss in national disasters is unnecessary and preventable." National Safety Council will provide authoritative information for the show on the prevention of accidents related to disasters, designed to help viewers and test participants increase their survival quotient."

After reviewing the scrip for "The National Disaster Survival Test," NSC President Vincent Tofany said that, "By making people aware of how to deal with disasters, this one program could very well save many lives, prevent thousands of injuries and protect millions of dollars in property."

Follow-up information about disasters and disasterrelated accidents and prevention techniques will be available from Texas' NSC affiliate, the Texas Safety Association, P. O. Box 9345, 78766, (512) 451-7421. Test forms will be published in TV Guide and your local newspaper.

Debbie will be entering journalism feature writing. Others competing in Odessa this past weekend were Donna Pyron in headline writing and Paul Reynolds in slide rule. Both failed to finish first or second and thus qualify for the state meet.

This is the first time in several years that any Hamlin High student has qualified for the U I L State Literary Contest in journalism.

Dora Mitchell, business teacher, was honored in the dedication of The 1977 Piper, the Hamlin High School yearbook. The annuals were distributed after a short assembly last

The dedication cited Miss Mitchell as one who "touches all Pipers with a sense of morality, judgment and direction.'

Other celebrities announced by the yearbook's arrival included Lisa Howard, named recipient of the John Sousa Award for her contributions to the band; Paul Reynolds, honored with the Louis Armstrong Jazz Award as the most valuable member of the stage band; Treva Pettit and Allen Young, named Mr. and Miss HHS; Pam Absher and Allen, named Citizens of the Year; and Senior Class nominee Elise Kelley, Piper Queen, as the result of the seniors buying the largest percentage of annuals.

Philosopher Wants More Information On The Judges Who Voted On Paddling

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discusses the Constitutional issue of paddling this week, without saying how he fared when he was in school.

Dear editor:

One of the troubles with high-powered newspaper and television reporters is they're too superficial, they don't go deep enough into the important news stories of the

For example, the Supreme Court, by a vote of 5 to 4, has ruled it's not unconstitutional to paddle a school kid.

The wire services and the networks reported this, along with reports on why some Sophomores earning an A members voted for, some average were Rose Chavez, Stephanie Hymer and Jamie But they left out what I wanted to know: How many Gonzalez and Audrey Hart members of the Supreme made a B average. Court were paddled when Freshmen Stephanie they were in school? If a Haught and Teresa McMillen member was paddled, did it, earned a A average, while now years later, reflect itself Laura Carter compiled a B in how he voted on this

Constitutional crisis? Did the 5 who voted for paddling get paddled when they were in school, and the 4 who voted against escape? Or was it the other way around? That is, from which end did they approach it? While of course getting to the seat of the problem.

Reporters ought to get on the ball and give us the news we're really interested in, like does getting a paddling in school make a liberal or a conservative Supreme Court judge?

Some people don't think times have changed, but they have. Years ago, when a kid got paddled for misbehaving in school, it went to the Supreme Court, all right, but that court wasn't located in Washington, it was much closer. It was at home, where the kid automatically got another paddling for getting a paddling in school. You might call this double jeopardy, but to the kid it was a signal of clear and present danger that if he didn't straighten up he was going to have trouble

I don't know whether this worked or not, but it sure saved legal expense.

Also, I don't know whether kids learned more or less years ago than kids do nowadays, but whatever was, more or less, it sure was quieter. Oh, occasionally an eraser was thrown through a window, but never a teacher.

FEDERAL COURT RULES FOR HOSPITAL

Word was received here Wednesday morning that the Supreme Court of the United States has refused to hear the case against the Hamlin Hospital District.

In a letter to John Watts of Willingham and Watts, attorneys for the Hospital District, Michael Rodak Jr. clerk of the Supreme Court said: "The Court today denied the petition for a writ of certiorari in the above-entitled case."

The letter was dated April 25, 1977, and the case referred to was entitled, "C. E. Carter, et al. vs. Hamlin Hospital District, et al."

Watts said Wednesday morning that the Hospital Board was extremely pleased and will immediately begin the remodeling of the The case has been in the courts for over a year with the first ruling in the case by 104th District Court Judge J. Neil Daniel in favor of the district coming in February, 1976. The case was next heard in the 11th Civil Appeals Court with their ruling in favor of the district coming June 24, 1976.

The Texas Supreme Court refused to grant

an application for Writ of Error in the case

Dec. 1, 1976.

Plaintiffs in the suit were C. E. Carter, Leon

Kelso, Frank Carter, Henry Ueckert, Darwin Hill and Carl Jackson. They sued the Hamlin Hospital District and its board of directors, plus the state attorney general.

Frank Scarborough of Abilene is attorney for the plaintiffs.

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Hamlin area residents will have the opportunity Sunday to go through the new auditorium and middle school buildings. And if you have not seen them yet we would urge you to go.

The buildings are something that the whole community can take great pride in.

Parents of local students will also have the opportunity next week to visit their children's class rooms. The Hamlin schools delayed the observation of Public School Week until this time so that the students would be in the new buildings.

We are not sure that President Carter has the answer to America's energy problem or not in this package that he sent to Congress but we are glad to see so much importance being placed on it.

The American people must be convinced that we have a problem. We really doubt that more bureaucracy will do much to solve the problem but a concerned public can. Most of us could cut back a great deal in the amount of energy we waste without ever lowering our standard of living or without doing without any of the things we have come to expect.

As Cong. Omar Burleson points out in his newsletter this week, "The President's proposal on energy does nothing to increase production of energy supplies. The conservation measures mean sacrifices in our economy without anything to replace them."

He says it makes sense to conserve in an interim period while we seek additional resources but the controls which go with it are the main reason we are in the shape we are today. If we think we have controls and regimentation on the economy by a bureaucratic government, if all the elements of the energy policy were adopted, there would be inevitably more at the cost of every citizen in this Nation, he said.

The biggest fear we have of both the Administration and the Congress is what they will do to us in the name of meeting this "crisis." Sometimes the cure is worse than the disease.

A great part of the problem we

Apartment Open House Set Sunday

The Hamlin Housing Authority has announced that they will hold open house at the two new apartment complexes Sunday from 3 to 4:30 p.m., according to John Howard Jr., administrator.

Seven of the 14 units are located across the street from the new auditorium and middle school and the other seven are located behind the Post Office building. The downtown units contain four one-bedroom apartments and three two-bedroom apartments. The other unit contains all two-bedroom apartments.

Elected to serve with Ford were Milburn Wink, vice president; and Mrs. Peggye Bonds, secretary-treasurer.

Six directors were also elected for three year terms. They are Ken Prewit, Mrs. Joyce Scott, Greg Lievan, Ford, Luther Haught and Bob Craig. Ford, Haught and Craig were renamed to the board.

Because the 1976 campaign failed to reach its full goal of $14,000, the directors voted to support all of the local organizations 100 percent of the budgeted amount and pay the other organizations 95 percent of their budgeted amount.

The 1977-78 campaign director will be named at the August meeting of the board, Ford said.

HTS UP TO MINISTRATION MINISTRA

Most people don't think about fire prevention until
it's too late. Sure you keep an eye out for obvious hazards. Everybody does. No one would "let" their child
play with matches, or throw a lit match into a waste paper basket. But what about hidden danger areas? And carelessness? Like putting a penny in a fuse box, or letting trash pile up. Fires can happen anytime... anyplace. That's why individual prevention programs are so vital to minimizing their cause.

Each of us can reduce the threat of fires...the tragic loss of lives and irreparable damage they
incur...by being alert to the rules of fire safety
and practicing them. It's up to you, you and YOU!

- In the home: Practice fire drills with your family. Keep a fire extinguisher in a handy place.
- On your property: Check electrical wiring. Watch for trash build-ups.
 Take care when disposing of chemical containers, aerosol cans.
- In the forest: Be extra careful when smoking and extinguishing cigarettes. Snuff out campfires completely. Don't litter.
- Everywhere: Obey fire laws and "no smoking" signs. When driving, keep clear of vehicles carrying highly flammable contents.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

As we leave behind another Tax Day (April 15), there are a couple of bills pending in the House of Representatives which will be of interest to many persons in the Hamlin

Some 54 million Americans are hit with an income tax penalty of up to 20 percent because they are single, or because they are married with both partners working. The Committee of Single Taxpayers (CO$T) has been working for several years to eliminate this inequity. To accomplish this goal, Rep. Ed Koch has again introduced HR 850 in the House.

Also pending in the House is HR 84, introduced by Rep. Herb Harris, which would make a beginning toward income tax equality for renters, similar to what has for so long been available to homeowners.

Anyone interested in more information about these bills is urged to send a long, selfaddressed stamped envelope to me at the address below, mentioning that this letter was read in the Hamlin Herald. Thank you.

Sincerely, Lee Spencer Box 4330 Arlington, Virginia 22204

Whitewashing a cellar, cleaning and whitewashing hen houses, carrying out ashes from a besement, beating carpets, hoeing gardens, mowing a lawn, cleaning a furnace, repairing a fence, running errands, taking care of children, repairing a boardwalk, delivering papers, cleaning windows, cutting wood or anything else. The Sacred Concert, presented by the Hamlin Choral Club, under the direction of Mrs. L. B. Howard, Sunday night was a program of the rarest kind for its musical and devotional nature. All churches suspended their regular services and assembled at the Baptist Church. The seating capacity was far too small to accommodate the crowd. Probably there would have been 1000 present had there have been an assurance of room.

The program was given volume and variation by the assistance of a number of male voices. The men taking part were: Messrs. Grogan Turner, J. C. Turner, S. T. Curtis, Sam Alford, Floyd Carlton, W. A. Albritton, Pearson Morgan, Ed Bailey, Tom Farrow, J. O. Jones and Mart Farrow.

Hamlin High School Choral Club is one of the best aggregations of young girl singers this section of the State furnishes. Many of them possess voices that will present thrills of music in song in great choirs in the future.

NEWS AND VIEWS. . .

are facing today came about because nobody used any common sense when they started imposing all of the environmental controls on this nation. Right in this area alone there are several oil refineries that have been closed because they could not afford to meet all the federal requirements.

We created a paper shortage almost over night because we shut down paper mills that could not meet the environmental standards. You can add industry after industry to this list and then wonder how bureaucracy is going to solve Prayer Service this problem of energy.

We have people right now that if left alone will close down 90 percent of the cotton gins in the state because of dust.

These things were all done by dedicated people who believed in what they were doing but they could not have done much more damage to this nation if they had been foreign agents. And this is what scares me - we can only wonder what may be forced on the American people in the name of conservation and the public good.

On the one hand you have these dedicated public servants who can see nothing but their own cause and on the other hand you have the same old story of politics - gore everyone's ox but your own.

A good example of the latter is Senator Proxmire of Wisconsin who has been one of the outspoken critics of the oil and gas industry and insisting almost daily to keep price controls on oil and gas. Yet when interviewed recently as to why he was so active in his support of seeking additional price hikes for milk, it's a different ball game "the dairy farmer's costs have gone up, inflation has eaten into the profits and he needs more money if he is to produce more milk."

Sounds familiar doesn't it. Another one is Rep. John Dingell of Michigan who has been outspoken in his demand to break up the oil and gas companies in the nation, he was the first to scream to the high heavens when it appeared the administration was going to put huge taxes on gas-guzzlers out of Michigan.

Yes, we Americans need to conserve our energy and we need to solve a lot of other problems but at the same time we need to keep our eye on these people that have the power to regulate our lives.

Let us help the President solve both our current energy problem and our long range needs, but let us not give anyone a blank check to regulate our lives to meet their personal whims.

Worship Service 11:00 a.m. In our nation today, the majority of us have so much to be thankful for. Sure we lose a tooth or two in growing up, as the one pictured here, but these will soon be replaced. Health and Happiness are generally ours, 10:00 a.m. and through our abundance we should share with 6:00 p.m. others who are less fortunate. God's word and the yer Service 7:30 p.m. church encourage sharing with others. There Rev. Jess Wayne Adkins are many areas of service to others within the 9:45 a.m. churches, and these we should not neglect, but 6:00 p.m. God has said that we should take advantage, as

> "As we have therefore opportunity, let us 9:45 a.m. do good unto all men."

Conservation District News PASTURE PLANTING

Pasture planting swing in the California Creek Soil and water Conservation District. Coastal Burmudagrass, Weeping lovegrass and Kleingrass are the three most popular grasses that are being used by Jones County farmers. All of the grasses are introduced grasses or not native to the United States. These grasses should be planted in pure stands.

The purchase of a new grass drill by the District, which can be rented from the Anson FFA Chapter, has made the planting of the correct amount of Weeping lovegrass or Kleingrass easier. The drill is equipped with a double culti-packer. The front one firms up the seedbed and the second one presses the grass seed into the ground.

The importance of a well prepared seedbed cannot be over emphasized in a good pasture planting program. A seedbed can be prepared with a chisel plow, disk harrow or breaking plow depending on the equipment that you may have available. A seedbed should be prepared for grass the same way that you would prepare land to plant wheat or other small grain. It is important to leave the land level and smooth so that other operations such as weed control, fertilization or haying can be carried out on the pasture.

Kleingrass is becoming a very popular grass in Jones County. It is better adapted to sandy loams and clay loam soils. It should be planted at the rate of two pounds of pure live seed per acre and fertilized with at least 40-40-0 per acre. Weeds can be controlled by spraying with 2-4D or rotocycled. Newly planted grasses should be rested the first growing season and allowed to develop a good root system.

Weeping lovegrass and Coastal Bermudagrass have been used in the California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District for a number of years. Both grasses are adapted to sandy, loam and clay soils. Coastal bermudagrass does better where it gets extra overflow land. Ermelo lovegrass, the most used varity of weeping lovegrass, is adapted to all soil types but is used most on the deep sandy soils in this county. It is fairly easy to establish and produces an abundance of forage. It has produced more pounds of beef per acre, at the Renner Experiment Station, including Coastal bermudagrass than any other perennial grass.

If you are planting grasses and need assistance in planting or the management of these grasses contact Soil Conservation Service personnel at the local SCS office in Anson.

The people who generate our power are faced with some real price problems, especially the cost of fuel necessary to generate electricity. Our suppliers are no happier than we are with these higher prices. But while the memberowned electric cooperative cannot control operating costs nor fuel prices, we can and do keep a tight rein on every other cost of doing business. It's a habit we have formed during forty years of service. Where the electric cooperative controls the costs — the costs stay under control.

Legislative Report

By Rep. Elmer Martin The Texas House of Representatives passed by a vote of 102-36 a $695.4 million public school finance mea-

This bill provides for 85 percent state funding of the foundation school program. Under this legislation, however, school districts will be required to freeze local taxes at their current levels in 1977-78 and lower taxes to a statewide total in 1978-79.

New provisions in House Bill 750 include: A shift from a 180-day school term to 174 days $117 million extra funding for such maintenance and operation costs for schools as utilities and supplies

$21.5 million increase for transportation expenses $6.5 million increase for drivers education

Funds to hire additional teachers to lower the pupilteacher ratio in kindergarten through grade three

$2 million for extra personnel in districts with migrant student populations The Senate now will have to work on its public school funding measure, and if they fail to adopt the House measure, a joint House-Senate conference committee will meet to work out a compromise bill.

Although teacher salaries are not included in House Bill 750, a $263 million pay bill has been approved by the House Public Education Committee and is expected to come before the full House within the next few weeks.

This legislation would provide some $263 million for the biennium, with the bulk of the raise going to experienced teachers.

The pay hikes would be formulated through a small increase in the base salaries and by creating three new pay steps beyond the 10 steps currently in existence, making the top pay for a bachelor's degree teacher on pay step 13 about $14,000 annually.

The House also passed House Bill 846, the much discussed Property Tax Code Revision.

This is a measure I opposed in its final form because it establishes a new state level bureaucracy without accomplishing all that much. House Bill 846 would establish a single countywide appraisal unit for all areas of the State, taking over the appraisal responsibilities now vested in cities, school districts and special

However, the bill will not take in the county tax assessor's appraisal duties unless the county assessor makes the decision to join the county-wide appraisal unit. Retired teachers will get a significant boost in benefits if Senate Bill 74, as approved by the Senate State Affairs Committee, is enacted into

is a fair proposal, considering the many demands for state funds, and an improvement in the teacher retirement system that will benefit both former and present teachers.

National Disaster Survival Test On TV Sunday Evening

What would you do if you at your side? If you were If lightning struck the person during a hurricane? If you were caught in a flash flood? trapped in a beach house

Would you know how to survive - and how to prevent accidents that can occur FAMILY GAME ROOM during such disasters?

If not, you can learn by watching "The National Disaster Survival Test" on NBC-TV. Sunday, May 1, at 7:00 p.m. CST. Produced by Warren V. Bush in cooperation with the National Safety Council, the 90-minute "Big Event" will incorporate films of actual disasters, dramatic re-enactments and interviews with survivors and survival experts.

were on a highway when a

Using a test format, viewers at home can compete with each other to see who knows how best to cope with emergencies. You, in turn, will be competing with a cross-section of Americans in studio audiences in five major test cities. Electronic boards will break down the answers into city-by-city categories, as well as age, sex and even professional categories. Charles F. Richter, formulator of the Richter Scale for measuring earthquakes, states that "Over 90 percent of the loss of life, and more than half the property loss in national disasters is unnecessary and preventable." National Safety Council will provide authoritative information for the show on the prevention of accidents related to disasters, designed to help viewers and test participants increase their 'survival quotient."

After reviewing the scrip for "The National Disaster NSC Survival Test," President Vincent Tofany said that, "By making people aware of how to deal with disasters, this one program could very well save many lives, prevent thousands of injuries and protect millions of dollars in property."

Follow-up information about disasters and disasterrelated accidents and prevention techniques will be available from Texas' NSC affiliate, the Texas Safety Association, P. O. Box 9345, 78766, (512) 451-7421. Test forms will be published in TV Guide and your local newspaper.

Philosopher Wants More Information On The Judges Who Voted On Paddling

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discusses the Constitutional issue of paddling this week. without saying how he fared when he was in school.

Carter, Rhonda Hart, Denice Dear editor: One of the troubles with Haught, Barbara Hooper, high-powered newspaper and Lisa Howard, Russ Lakey, television reporters is they're Kayla Mehaffey and Treva too superficial, they don't go Pettit. Tracy Gregory and deep enough into the im-Elise Kelley earned a B portant news stories of the Julie Jeffrey, Linda

For example, the Supreme Court, by a vote of 5 to 4, has ruled it's not unconstitutional to paddle a school kid.

The wire services and the networks reported this, along with reports on why some members voted for, some But they left out what I

Jones. Mark Carter, Irma wanted to know: How many Gonzalez and Audrey Hart members of the Supreme Freshmen Stephanie Court were paddled when they were in school? If a Haught and Teresa McMillen member was paddled, did it, earned a A average, while now years later, reflect itself Laura Carter compiled a B in how he voted on this

Constitutional crisis? Did the 5 who voted for paddling get paddled when they were in school, and the 4 who voted against escape? Or was it the other way around? That is, from which end did they approach it? While of course getting to the seat of the problem.

Reporters ought to get on the ball and give us the news we're really interested in, like does getting a paddling in school make a liberal or a conservative Supreme Court

Some people don't think

times have changed, but they have. Years age, when a kid got paddled for misbehaving in school, it went to the Supreme Court, all right, but that court wasn't located in Washington, it was much closer. It was at home, where the kid automatically got another paddling for getting a paddling in school. You might call this double jeopardy, but to the kid it was a signal of clear and present danger that if he didn't straighten up he was going to have trouble sitting down.

I don't know whether this worked or not, but it sure saved legal expense.

Also, I don't know whether kids learned more or less years ago than kids do nowadays, but whatever was, more or less, it sure was quieter. Oh, occasionally an eraser was thrown through a window, but never a teacher.

Yours faithfully,

J.A.
